Oxford Grange

Oxford Grange held an all day meeting Saturday, Jan. 19, 1918, the purpose of electing their officers. Past Master, G. O. Martin of Otisfield Grange acted as installing officer, ably assisted by brother and sister Nutting of Otisfield.

Mrs. Rose Denning nominated and elected to serve for the third year as Lecturer, also granted voted to send the Lecturer to Conference in February, which convenes at Augusta. Also voted to buy a picture of the Seven Founders of the Order which Mr. Nutting showed.

A bountiful dinner was served to about forty at noon by the following committee: Mrs. Clayton Lovejoy, Mrs. Albert Thomas, Mrs. Bowker, Mrs. Arthur Grant, Mrs. Rose Denning.

Then came installation, which was public officers:

Master—Chas. Hirst. Overseer—Fred Gammon. Lecturer—Rose Denning. Steward—Chas. Denning. Chaplain—W. H. Hastings. Treas.—Geo. Tynes.

Sec.—Mrs. Chas. Swift. Ores.—Mrs. Ina Hirst. Pomona—Mrs. Arthur Grant. Mordred—J. W. Hastings. Gate Keeper—Chas. Brett. Asst. Steward—Divinal Tynes.

Brother Martin proved himself a very pleasing installing officer. Then the lecturer introduced brothers F. A. Dudley, State Horticulturist. His talk was on the different diseases of fruit trees, orcharding, spraying, showing pictures of trees infected by gypsy moth, brown tail and canker. It was regrettable so many were obliged to leave so early for home, for Mr. Dudley answered all questions asked, in a learned and able manner.

A reading by Lincoln Chaplin, also by the Lecturer, The Right Spirit, and singing of America closed the program. A dance in the evening, music by Parker's orchestra of Lewiston.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together and for years we were supposed to be incurable. Doctors prescribed local remedies, but by continuing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Catarrh is a local disease, greatly influenced by constitutional conditions, therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Medicine, manufactured by J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is a constitutional remedy, it taken internally and acts thru the blood on the diseased surfaces of the system. One hundred dollars reward is offered for any cure. Hall's Catarrh Medicine fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

SAVE AND HAVE

It's National Thrift Day on February 3d-4th.

As a nation, we are learning the lesson of Thrift and finding it well worth while. The annual celebration of National Thrift Day has played a large part in bringing about this new attitude. It has made Thrift easy to practice by providing a day when hundreds of thousands of people are thinking and acting Thrift.

"A new Thrift habit?" is the rule on February 3rd of each year for Thrift Day observance. The habit need not be the saving of actual money.

Thrift Day will next be celebrated on Monday, February 4th, 1918. It will be our first war Thrift Day and there is evidence that Americans in greater numbers than ever before will observe the day with thrifty actions. Thrift, indeed, is no mere service of self; it is service to the country—a form of patriotism in which every citizen can indulge.

STOP THE FARM LEAKS Every one knows what happens when water is put into a barrel that has stood empty in the sun for a while. The water leaks out between the staves. Many manufacturers hire men to study out ways of stopping such leaks in their products. It is said that the well-known automobile company offers a small fortune to any man who will save a few cents in the cost of building prominent parts of an auto. Just so in farming. The most successful farmer is the one who has the best organized business which is best adapted to conditions, and has the fewest "leaks." Every dairy farmer knows the Babcock test shows how much butter fat is in a cow's milk.

NOTHING INFERIOR

There are no inferior materials, inferior tailoring and forgotten styles in our stock. Hundreds of men have learned to dress well and economize at the same time by buying their clothes here. Our Winter Suits and Overcoats are talking very strong at this time and you should listen.

DEPENDABLE STOCK

We also have a large and dependable stock of Men's Necessaries that includes Shirts, Neckwear, Mufflers, Gloves, Bath Robes, Suspenders, Hats, Caps, Boots, Shoes, Rubbers, Sweaters and Underwear. A great variety of seasonable goods at the right prices.

Truman Won Speedy Match

In the fastest main bout ever played off in town, Homer Truman, the Maine champion, won in straight falls from Jim Poulos of Manchester, N. H., at Norway Opera House, Thursday evening, Jan. 24. Truman secured his first fall with a half nelson and body scissors in fourteen and one-half minutes, the second while using a head scissors with half nelson in thirteen and one-half minutes. Poulos took severe punishment at the finish of the second round. Arthur Morris, the Norway Greek, defaulted to Omar King of Island Pond, Vt., in the semi-final after losing the first round in six and one-half minutes. The preliminary was won by "Wild Bill" Ledger in straight falls from Lester (Crepper) Lapham in five and four and one-half minutes.

Referee Fred (Cyclone) Gregg started the show promptly with a pair of Norway bantams as the preliminary offering. They were told to go after it and hustle they did with "Wild Bill" the stronger kid. Crepper Lapham made his first appearance on the mat and after shaking off an attack of stage fright got into Bill in manner that looked good. Young Ledger's previous experience was in his favor and after a busy session won the match.

Manager Stairs had trouble to find an opponent for "Speedy" King. Charlie Howe of North Norway, who had been matched failed to appear. Arthur, the Norway Greek, volunteered to make his initial bow as a wrestler with a best two in three, catch-as-catch-can agreement. This mill went six and one-half minutes with everything in King's favor. When the second round was called the Greek vanished feeling certain the mat was no place for him. The decision was in favor of King by this default. King offered to finish the match with any 150 pound man in the hall, but was not taken. All admit the main bout that followed was some big classy wrestling show. John Kalonis who sent Jim Poulos, the Manchester Greek as a strong antagonist for Truman, picked a fast man, in fact the quickest and strongest performer who has appeared before the Norway sports. He is the only wrestler beside Sherburn who made any get away from the powerful scissors for which Truman is famous and dreaded. As a scientific and powerful chap with lightning speed there is no question, giving the Maine champion plenty of work and a chance to show considerable stuff not usually necessary. Conditions of match were best two in three, strangle and toe holds barred, catch-as-catch-can.

At the outside Truman weighed 173½ pounds and Poulos 162½. They opened with a dash and no preliminary sizing up killed a single minute. Both were able to block freely and break easily any hold passed over. The work was largely open so they covered with speed leg action, making the show spectacular. During the clinches nobody stalled, for the work proved rapid with both in dangerous places until a neat break-away relieved the tension. Truman's ability to meet rapid action and clear for a new attack came as a surprise to many. All are familiar with his strength, but keen ring generalship and agility was something new as the champion has had in the past an opportunity to throw out but few trumps. The famous scheme made small impression during the early stages for Poulos proved a wizard in snapping out of the body and head squeeze that has trapped many good men. He also neatly blocked that game until Truman warmed up and applied the emergency brakes, especially in the second round. It was this powerful grip from which the Manchester athlete could not crawl that gave Truman the match after Poulos took punishment for two minutes before giving up. He was helped by his feet by the referee and when able to speak frankly admitted that he was trimmed.

Frederick M. Davis lived things up during intermission with latest musical hits on the piano. The no singing order was carried out to the letter and ringside spectators quiet as sleepy kittens. Orderly demonstrations were frequent but carried on in a safe and sane way.

RED CROSS NEEDS NURSES

The most vital necessity of the American Red Cross at the present time is nurses. Trained nurses are needed for the home cantonnments and the hospitals in France. And it is also important that a reserve organization should be effected at once. New England is expected to furnish 2,500 trained nurses for Red Cross work. Nearly all the New England hospitals have enlarged their schools for the training of nurses for war emergencies.

The duty of the nurse is as important to the boy at the front as that of the physician and it is one of the highest forms of patriotic service to which the young women of New England can dedicate themselves at this time. Elizabeth Ross, in charge of the Bureau of Nursing Service, New England Division, American Red Cross 755 Boylston St., will give all information regarding same.

One Dollar Starts It

If you deposit only $1.00 each week for 20 years in a savings bank paying 4 per cent. compound interest, the amount due will be $1,151, or $572 more than the amount you deposited.

Isn't that an argument in favor of the saving habit? Only a dollar a week! You could save that much if you would. Determine to do it. If you can make it $2.00 or $4.00 the result will be correspondingly greater.

Farm Buildings Burn
The farm buildings situated on the road between what is known as the Island Pond road, and the road beyond the twin bridges, on the Harrison road, were burned to the ground Friday night at 11 o'clock, with the contents. Elliot Kimball lives on the place. He formerly lived on the Crosby farm on Crockett Ridge. Mr. Kimball and his son were alone for the night, and the cats woke them up, crying, and he got up to let them out and discovered the barn all on fire. He awoke the boy and they got out without saving anything. The farm was known as the Amnis place.

The funeral of H. B. Flint was held at the lower church, Rev. McCressey of Gorham officiating. A blizzard was in progress, which made the surroundings sadder still. He had been a great sufferer for several years, a good and patient man who had gone to his rest. We doubt if he had an enemy in the world. His two remaining brothers, T. S. and Geo. LIBERTY LOAN AND BANK DEPOSITS

The Annual Report of the Secretary of the Treasury contains this statement: The First Liberty Loan was sold and paid for between January 15 and August 31, 1917, and it is interesting to note that the reports of the national banks show that between the calls for reports from these banks of May, 1917, and September 11, 1917, embracing the period in which the First Liberty Loan was taken up and paid for, the national banks of the country, instead of being drained of their resources through these vast collections by the Government, actually showed an increase of $154,000,000 in the sum total of their deposits for that period. The payments for the Second Liberty Loan were made with the same ease that marked the settlements of the first.

To the effective machinery afforded by the Federal Reserve Banks is attributed the execution of these tremendous and unprecedented financial operations without a tremor of financial disturbance.

The total deposits on November 30, 1917, of the 7,650 national banks amount to $14,798,000,000, an increase over November 17, 1916, of $2,309,000,000, and an increase over September 11, 1917, of $1,564,000,000. The total resources of these banks on November 20 were $18,553,000,000.

Much consternation was caused last week by the fuel commissioner's order to close all factories and stores so as to conserve fuel. It was finally decided that Sokokis Lumber Mill and Merrifield's Bobbin Mill might continue business as usual as they manufacture their own fuel.

The woolen mill remained closed Friday and Saturday, resuming business Monday morning as they had a contract with the government for overcoating material. This company distributed last week among their employees of six and twelve months standing the sum of forty-three hundred dollars as a New Year's present. This is one of the few mills in the state depending almost entirely for help on residents of the town and are extremely fortunate in that respect.

Norway Won Game From Paris
 Norway High won in basket ball over her rival Paris High, at Norway Opera House Friday evening, the result being 30 to 11. The playing was fast and clean with comparatively little fouling. Both teams were supported by a bunch of royal school rooters that furnished cheers and music during the play.

Klain secured the first floor goal in two minutes and the Norway team had an eight point lead before Paris found the basket. Norway rushed matters during the first half and had the ball in Paris territory a greater part of the time. In the second period the Paris quintet got down to business and played a stronger game, showing better defense and more inclination to pass cleanly. Norway was able to get only 3 baskets from the floor, although many close shots were taken, but 2 goals from 5 free throws. Porter secured one from 4 chances. This also had hard luck finding the ring and should have scored a larger percentage of shots that just missed.

Fouls called on Norway 7, on Paris 11. Referee, A. G. Parker. Time keeper, P. H. Nevers. Scorers, Sloan and Merrill. Twenty minute periods.

The game was clean with little attempt to rough-house. A warning from the referee had a quieting effect and but few penalties given, only 7 fouls being called on the home team and 10 on the visitors. Porter, Curtis and McGinley for Paris, were the fortunate score makers for Paris while Descoeaux, Barker, Stone and Klain did effective shooting for Norway.

Both teams had the loyal and enthusiastic support of a large, well organized cheering section. About seventy-five Norway High Students occupied the stage, giving school cheers and songs to encourage their team. Paris was represented by at least fifty students in the balcony section who were on the job at all times. The best feeling prevailed between the rival squads and considerable applause was exchanged.

A second school game scheduled for intermission was not played. Bridgton sent over an independent team of husky sales which the Norway High Seconds could not play. A pickup quintet offered their services but the management decided to call the affair off.

A large number remained to the dance which followed, music being furnished by Howard Shaw and Roger Sloane.

Fuel Edict Observed in Norway
 Following out the program as laid down by the Fuel Administrator Garfield at Washington, the Norway industries not making their own fuel for heat and power closed shop until Wednesday morning. The Norway Knitting Co. and Norway Shoe Co. dropped everything Thursday night. Friday morning work was suspended at the Norway Turning Co. because of a broken water wheel at the South Paris power station and no electricity furnished. This plant had been running nights during the mishap at the Norway plant. The Carroll, Jellerson Shoe Co. operated their factory until Saturday noon with special permission and closed until the time limit had expired. C. B. Cummings & Sons Co. continued without interruption, they used the waste sawdust bittings and refuse wood. Schools continued as usual and churches held Sunday services.

A general holiday was observed Monday with the stores, barber shops, offices, general business places closed. Grocers continued on business until noon and drug stores remained open throughout the day. Probably some fuel was saved locally by this short notice halt in our activities.

Sergt. Dyer's Christmas Letter
 Sergt. Alfred J. Dyer, Co. D, 103rd U. S. Infantry, A. E. F. in France remembered the Advertiser with the following Christmas letter dated Dec. 26, and received this week.

"I am writing you a few lines and hope it will find you folks in good health. I am glad to say that we are all in good trim."

"I must tell you about our Christmas dinner. We had roast turkey, meat and potatoes, mince pies, apples, nuts and figs. I tell you it was some feed, thoroughly enjoyed by every one of us. Following this Lieut. Swett passed us out a surprise in the form of bags of candy, chocolate, cocoa, tobacco, cigarettes, toilet articles and puzzles. These were sent by the South Paris Service League. We have got to thank them for their thinking of us. Their work was not done in vain for it was certainly appreciated by all the boys."

"We have our new Y. M. C. A. hut completed and opened last Saturday night (Dec. 22). It is a big one and will care for more than 2,000 soldiers. The Association is doing good work over here and can be found right up to the front line trenches. Don't know what a man would do if not for the Y. M. C. A. conveniences. We come in wet and tired there is a chance to dry one's shoes and clothes, also a good cup of hot coffee. Plenty of writing material and a cozy place to smoke are things which make life worth living. It is very cold here now with snow on the ground."

Rev. C. Wellington Rogers of Gray has accepted the call to the pastorate of the South Paris Congregational church. His pastorate here is to begin February 17th.

Generous Gifts From Mrs. True
 A number of bequests in the will of Mrs. Helen M. True, who died in New Gloucester on the 9th, are of interest here. The will was filed for probate in the Cumberland Probate Court. Hon. James B. Wright of South Paris is named as executor.

To her sister, Mrs. George W. Haskell of New Gloucester, with whom she has made her home since Mr. True's death, Mrs. True leaves the sum of $5,000. Also in a codicil added recently she gives Mr. Haskell $1,000.

To her other sister, Mrs. Norris of Port Clyde, she leaves the sum of $5,000 increased in the codicil by $2,000, in trust to the executor, only the income of it to be used. At the death of her sister the larger part of this legacy is to be distributed for various charitable purposes.

To Mrs. Charlotte E. Howe of South Paris the sum of $100 is given, and there is also a bequest of $50 to Loomis P. Stevens of South Paris, who has died since the will was drawn.

To the Congregational church of South Paris the sum of $1,000 is given, to be known as the D. N. True fund, only the income of which is to be used. Also from her personal funds she leaves to the church the sum of $500 to be used as the church sees fit.

There are a few bequests of smaller amounts. The Girls' Home at Belfast will receive $100, the Maine Bible society $100 and the Baptist society at Port Clyde $200 upon the death of Ann Eliza Seavey, a sister of the testatrix and one of the beneficiaries named in the will.

Of the residue there is left to the town of Paris a sum not exceeding $3,000, for a fund the income of which is to be used for the relief of people temporarily in hard financial circumstances, not paupers, as the Crocker and Bray funds, now in possession of the town, are administered.

The installation of the Joshua A. Chamberlain Camp, Sons of Veterans was held in the G. A. R. hall Friday evening. Past Deputy Commander Dr. C. L. Buck installed the following officers:

SOME THINGS SAID OF AND BY NORWAY'S DON C. SEITZ

Don C. Seitz has just completed a 300,000 word work on the Wyandots, the most ambitious history of an Indian tribe since Morgan wrote "The League of the Iroquois." It embraces the detailed history of the tribes, contact with the white settlers, as well as accounts of its ethnography, customs, laws and habits.

He is at work on the life of the late Joseph Pulitzer, which is within sight of completion and is well underway on a life of the Confederate general, Baxton Bragg.

Mr. Seitz has written eleven books in the last ten years of his life with widely dissimilar subjects as Japan, the Mediterranean, Whistler, the Buccaneers, John Paul Jones.

Mr. Seitz sheds new light upon John Paul Jones, though there are already upward of 1,000 publications in various forms on this interesting naval adventurer. His book "Paul Jones, His Exploits in English Seas during 1778-1780" contains hitherto unpublished statements.

They concern the sea battles of Jones, together with a very extensive bibliography. This previously unexplored literary field has made it possible for Mr. Seitz to add to history numerous incidents of unquestioned value, for, as will be admitted by all searchers for truth, the chronicle of passing events in the daily press frequently contain many true facts that are not found elsewhere.

The English newspaper accounts of the first appearance of Jones as American commander of the Ranger privateer off the town of Whitby are thrilling in the extreme. One story of the visit is told by the Cumberland Chronicle Extraordinary—how the town was alarmed by visiting sailors from the Ranger, "who proceeded to a public house and drank much liquor, then set fire to and greatly damaged a collier, but the fire was extinguished; who afterwards made off for the Scots' shore."

When and how does he write? From half-past eight to half-past five o'clock every day Don C. Seitz is the manager of the New York World and the Evening World, one of the keepest, most practical newspaper executives in the country. During that portion of the day he gives himself entirely to the innumerable problems and questions arising in a great publishing establishment. But so soon as he has passed out through the revolving door of the Pulitzer Building the cares of journalism are left behind. Mr. Seitz enters a new world, a world totally different from that which he occupied his energies since early morning. On the trolley to Brooklyn or the train to his country place at Cos Cob, he dreams and scribbles, looking forward with anticipation to the hours after dinner when he can shut himself up in his library and indulge in the avocation that he enjoys almost as much as his serious occupation.

What does he dream of? What does he write about? Well, it depends upon the bent his recreation has been taking previously. Very likely it is picturesque. Desperate, cruel, baggy-trousersed, red-turbaned picaroons. Or it may be Indians only Mr. Seitz thinks of them in the same way as the small boy, who mutters the word "Injuns" in a subdued voice, with labored breath and round eyes. Or it may be of some great adventure of the past or present, some deed of reckless, headless bravery, or perhaps, the life-story of one of those misunderstood personalities with whom history abounds.

Mr. Seitz says: "You never know what you may find in the most unlikely sources," in describing his methods. In the course of collecting material for my Wyandot book I picked up one of those typical Chicago subscription editions of sloppily written biographies of frontier adventures—the sort of thing that never contains any original material. I don't know why I ever bought it, and yet in glancing through it I discovered the correct name of a personage figuring in my book whom I had been compelled to guess a name for.

"Again, in the course of working up my bibliography of 'Adventure' I came across a reference to a pamphlet issued by Frederick the Great on English privateering during the Seven Years' War. It was published in English and printed at Frederick's own press in Berlin, an early example of German propaganda. Well, I had the Imperial Library in Berlin searched without avail; the authorities there doubted if there was such a publication. But I kept on hunting for it, and six months later I obtained it through a book-dealer in Leeds for six shillings."

"Another experience of this kind I had in connection with hunting up local color for my Wyandot book. I wanted to find out just how the Indians of the Northwestern Confederation had declared war on us. After searching a long time without success, I came across a Philadelphia catalogue advertising for sale a number of copies of an early magazine, which contained among other things the account of the visit paid by certain Quakers to the Indians at this time. I sent for these magazines and obtained exactly the color I required."

"In collecting material for a life of Braxton Bragg I was fortunate enough in the same way to come across in a Western town a bundle of letters written by Bragg and by friends of his. I wrote an article on the subject in Bragg's life, and one of the latest of my people of the older generation out in Ohio belonged to the Middle Western regiments that fought against him. Besides that, I was named for Don Carlos Buell, Bragg's great opponent. And for another thing, there is a peculiar fascination in the life story of Bragg, morose, sullen in temperament, but one of the master minds of the Civil War. His Perryville campaign was a classic, and yet justice has never been done to him, largely because the leaders on his own side, except Jefferson Davis, did not like him. I think he has more claim to mention in history than any other of the great generals of the war. Give them a little more grape, Captain Bragg."

"Some day I hope to write a life of Artemus Ward, but I am waiting until I can obtain a collection of his letters which is in the possession of an old lady in Boston, who refuses to part with it. Her husband was Artemus's advance agent and I have heard these letters are funnier than anything else he ever wrote, and that I have gathered a great deal of material about him. My life of Joseph Pulitzer is in such shape that it could be completed in about three months. I have written it with the design of bringing out the drama of Mr. Pulitzer's remarkable career and the really great aspects of his character, showing the tremendous influence he had on modern journalism."

It will be perceived from this account that Mr. Seitz is not one of those "tired

HUSBAND SAVES WIFE
 From Suffering by Getting Her Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Pittsburgh, Pa.—"For many months I was not able to do my work owing to a weakness which caused backache and headaches. A friend called my attention to one of your newspaper advertisements and immediately my husband bought three bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for me. After taking two bottles I felt better and my troubles caused by that weakness are a thing of the past. All women who suffer as I did should try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

Mrs. JAS. ROHRBERG, 620 Knapp St., N. S., Pittsburgh, Pa.

Women who suffer from any form of weakness, as indicated by displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, backache, headaches, nervousness or "the blues," should accept Mrs. Rohrborg's suggestion and give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a thorough trial.

business men" who seek diversion and reaction in cabarets and Broadway girl-and-music shows. Indeed, he says that when he comes home at night he is never brain-tired. All that he craves is a change in the grooves of thought and he gets it by tracking down obscure chapbooks, digging up obscure points of history, or writing swagging verse.

If you ask him if it is worth while, he will repeat a story told at his expense by Dr. John H. Finley, State Commissioner of Education. Mr. Seitz sent a copy of his "Buccaneer Ballads" to Dr. Finley, and the next night Dr. Finley came home to find his small son sprawled out before the fire, nose buried deep in the pages of Mr. Seitz's book.

"What are you reading there, son?" demanded Dr. Finley.
 "The younger Finley waved the book excitedly in answer.
 "Say, this is some poetry!" he declared.

Mr. Seitz is an "all round newspaper man" who learned his trade in Norway, and besides he is an historian, a biographer, a poet, and a collector. Most of these last named pursuits he acquired by accident. He cites, partly in extenuation that he did not begin to write poetry until he was well onto fifty.

D. man to get through with the mail by skipping the cross roads boxes. The road roller was over the roads twice this week, being welcomed by those situated far from traffic, as single sleighs have little impression in high snow drifts.

WEST PARIS

Mrs. Francis Emmons

The remains of Mrs. Francis Emmons were brought here Friday from Portland for the funeral and interment. Mrs. Emmons was not as well as usual when she was here during the summer, but remained about the same until about a week before her death, when she was taken suddenly worse and died at the age of 79. She lived with her daughter, Bertha, but spent the summer months here at her old home.

Mrs. Emmons was the widow of the late Israel F. Emmons and for nearly 30 years resided here and was in business in the store now occupied by George Devine. The house adjacent to it they also owned and into which upon retiring from business they moved. This Mrs. Emmons kept until last fall when she sold to Dr. Staples.

Mrs. Emmons was twice married, her first husband being Mr. Hayes, by whom she had two children, Alice, who died in childhood and Austin Hayes who died a few years ago. A grandson, Karl S. Hayes, who has always made his home with his grandparents, survives. By her second marriage she had one daughter, Bertha, mentioned above.

Mrs. Emmons was an attendant of the M. E. church, a member of the W. C. T. U. and the order of Rebekahs.

The funeral was held Friday afternoon in the M. E. church, Rev. L. W. Grundy officiating. Two familiar hymns were sung. The Rebekahs attended in a body and used their funeral service, Mrs. F. S. Farson singing the service ode as a solo. It was a particular wish of the deceased some time since that Mrs. Farson should sing at her funeral. The casket was a beautiful gray couch and the flowers were very pretty.

Death of Herbert Gardner

The whole village was shocked last Sunday morning to hear of the awful accident and death of Herbert Gardner. A few weeks ago he went onto the road breaking and Sunday morning about seven o'clock as he reached Percy, N. H., he got off to receive orders and was getting on again while the train was in motion and it is supposed that he slipped on some ice and fell under the train that ran over him.

Herbert was the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Gardner and was born Sept. 26, 1898. Beside his parents he also had two sisters, Edith and Ethelwyn and a brother, George. He was a member of the graduating class W. P. H. S., of 1915 and left school during the fall term to go to work on the road.

He was a general favorite among the young people and a valuable member of the High school base ball team, who were named "Cubs."

The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock. Rev. L. W. Grundy officiated using the Episcopal service. Four young ladies from the high school, Laura Emery, Mabel Allen, Edith Stevens and Margie McAllister sang three selections very sweetly, "Sometime We'll Understand," "Nearer My God To Thee" and "Safe in the Arms of Jesus." Four young men, also from the school, Herbert Hill, Frank Packard, Carl Emery, Earl Bacon, were pall bearers.

The high school attended in a body with their principal, Miss Wall. The flowers were most beautiful and were as follows:

Pillow with "son and brother," The family. Basket, "W. H. S." Senior Class. Crescent, "Cubs" Base Ball team.

Large large vase—Diana J. Wall, Prima. Carnations and roses—Elsie Colburn, Crystal.

Carnations—Mrs. and Mrs. Simpkins, South Paris.

Carnations—Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Devine and Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Penley.

Carnations—E. W. Penley and Alice. Sprays—M. and E. H. Andrews.

Hyacinths—Epworth League. Mixed pinks—M. E. Sunday school.

White pinks—Church friends.

The foregoing list bespeaks the high esteem in which he was held. Special mention must be made of the size and value of the large harp, which was contributed by village friends to the amount of $33.00. The harp was three or four feet high, made of most beautiful combinations. A part of the frame work was solid red carnations, the rest of roses, light pinks and other flowers, the strings were of purple and the pedestal roses and ferns. The other set pieces were very pretty, also the bouquets. Much sympathy is expressed for the bereaved family.

Fred E. Reed

The remains of Fred E. Reed were brought here Friday and placed in the tomb. Mr. Reed, who has been working for Elmer B. Davis in Woodstock for about ten years, met his death by hanging. No cause is known except despondency. He was a man of good principles and reliable. He leaves a sister, Mrs. Willard Cobb of Peru, formerly of West Paris, and her husband came. The funeral services were held at the tomb, Rev. L. W. Grundy having one other on the same day. The roads were too bad to make them both at the assigned time. Mr. Reed must have been in the neighborhood of sixty years old.

Took Cold Plunge

A pair of horses, one belonging to Ellsworth Curtis, the other to Gerald Swift, and driven by Lendall Yates while after a load of ice about half a mile above the village, broke through and went under the ice, remaining there about fifteen minutes. They were quickly freed from the sleds and their heads kept out while a team fortunately in passing came to their assistance and pulled them out. They were given proper and immediate care so that they were not harmed by their sudden cold bath.

BE YOURSELF

One reason why so many girls and boys, men and women, too, are uninteresting, is because they try so hard to be like somebody else rather than to content to remain himself or herself in life. In nature, you don't see an oak posing as a willow, or a black duck as a yellow leg, or a horse as a cow, or a lily as a rose, or a lilac as a peony or a dog as a cat. Be just natural and you'll be all right.

Also it's safe to gamble that the price of garbage cans will not be boosted on account of the unusual demand.

An obsolete song: "Woodman, Spare That Tree."

D. man to get through with the mail by skipping the cross roads boxes. The road roller was over the roads twice this week, being welcomed by those situated far from traffic, as single sleighs have little impression in high snow drifts.

WEST PARIS

The remains of Mrs. Francena Emmons were brought here Friday from Portland for the funeral and interment. Mrs. Emmons was not as well as usual when she was here during the summer, but remained about the same until about a week before her death, when she was taken suddenly worse and died at the age of 79. She lived with her daughter, Bertha, but spent the summer months here at her old home.

Mrs. Emmons was the widow of the late Israel F. Emmons and for nearly 30 years resided here and was in business in the store now occupied by George Devine. The house adjacent to it they also owned and into which upon retiring from business they moved. This Mrs. Emmons kept until last fall when she sold to Dr. Staples.

Mrs. Emmons was twice married, her first husband being Mr. Hayes, by whom she had two children, Alice, who died in childhood, and Austin Hayes who died a few years ago. A grandson, Karl S. Hayes, who has always made his home with his grandparents, survives. By her second marriage she had one daughter, Bertha, mentioned above.

Mrs. Emmons was an attendant of the M. E. church, a member of the W. C. T. U. and the order of Rebekahs.

The funeral was held Friday afternoon in the M. E. church, Rev. L. W. Grundy officiating. Two familiar hymns were sung. The Rebekahs attended in a body and used their funeral service, Mrs. F. S. Farnum singing the service ode as a solo. It was a particular wish of the deceased some time since that Mrs. Farnum should sing at her funeral. The casket was a beautiful gray couch and the flowers were very pretty.

Death of Herbert Gardner

The whole village was shocked last Sunday morning to hear of the awful accident and death of Herbert Gardner.

A few weeks ago he went onto the road breaking and Sunday morning about seven o'clock as he reached Percy, N. H., he got off to receive orders and was getting on again while the train was in motion and it is supposed that he slipped on some snow and fell under the train that ran over him.

Herbert was the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Gardner and was born Sept. 29, 1898. Beside his parents he also leaves two sisters, Edith and Ethelwyn and a brother, George. He was a member of the graduating class W. P. H. S., of 1918 and left school during the fall term to his father, who is station agent and a few weeks ago went onto the road.

He was a general favorite among the young people and a valuable member of the High school baseball team, who were named "Cubs."

The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock. Rev. L. W. Grundy officiating using the Episcopal service. Four young ladies from the high school, Laura Emery, Mabel Allen, Edith Stevens and Margie McAllister sang the selections very sweetly, "Sometime We'll Understand," "Nearer My God to Thee" and "Safe in the Arms of Jesus." Four young men, also from the school, Herbert Hill, Frank Packard, Carl Egan, and Paul Bacon, were pall bearers.

The high school principal, Miss Wall, the flowers were most beautiful and were as follows:

Pillow with "son and brother" The family. Basket, "W. H. S." Senior Class. Crescent "Base Ball team."

Large harp—Village friends. Carnations and roses—Diana J. Wall, Phyllis, Sweet peas and pink—Elsie Coburn, Crystal, N. H.

Carnations—Mrs. and Mrs. Simpkins, South Paris.

Carnations—Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Devine and Mrs. F. R. Penley.

Carnations—R. W. Penley and Alice Spray—A. M. and Harlan Andrews.

Hyacinths—Egworth League.

Mixed pinks—M. E. School.

White pinks—Church friends.

The foregoing list bespeaks the high esteem in which he was held. Special mention must be made of the size and value of the large harp, which was contributed by village friends to the amount of $30.00. The harp was four or five feet high, made of most beautiful combinations. A part of the frame work was solid red carnations, the rest of roses, light pinks and other flowers, the strings were of purple and the pedestal roses and ferns. The other set pieces were very pretty, also the bouquets. Much sympathy is expressed for the bereaved family.

Fred E. Reed

The remains of Fred E. Reed were brought here Friday and placed in the tomb. Mr. Reed, who has been working for Elmer B. Davis in Woodstock for about ten years, met his death by hanging. No cause is known except despondency. He was a man of good principles and reliable. He leaves a sister, Mrs. Willard Cobb of Peru, formerly of West Paris. She and her husband came. The funeral services were held at the tomb, Rev. L. W. Grundy having one hour too late to make them both at the assigned time. Mr. Reed must have been in the neighborhood of sixty years old.

Took Cold Plunge

A pair of horses, one belonging to Ellsworth Curtis, the other to Gerald Swift, and driven by Lendall Yates while after a load of ice about half a mile above the village, broke through and went under the ice, remaining there about fifteen minutes. They were quickly freed from the sleds and their heads kept out to their assistance and pulled them out. They were given proper and immediate care so that they were not harmed by their sudden cold bath.

BE YOURSELF

One reason why so many girls and boys, men and women, too, are uninteresting, is because they try so hard to be like somebody else rather than to content to remain himself or herself in life. In nature, you don't see an oak posing as a willow, or a black duck as a yellow leg, or a horse as a cow, or a lily as a rose, or a lilac as a peony or a dog as a cat. Be just natural and you'll be all right.

Also it's safe to gamble that the price of garbage cans will not be boosted on account of the unusual demand.

An obsolete song: "Woodman, Spare That Tree."
